ANGLO-FRENCH ENTENTE STILL VITAL AND STRONG

King Replies To Address Of Welcome At Paris Reception

GRATEFUL THANKS EXPRESSED FOR WARM WELCOME EXTENDED

London, July 20.

The King began a long day of official visits and receptions in Paris this morning by laying a wreath on the Unknown Warrior's Tomb at the Arc de Triomphe. Having reverently placed the wreath in position the King remained for a brief space with bowed head.

The King wore the uniform of Field Marshal and was accompanied by the British Ambassador, Sir Eric Phipps. His Majesty was received by the Minister for Pensions, M. Champetier de Ribes, while the band played the British and French National anthems.

After adding his signature to the golden book His Majesty shook hands with the officers present and returned to the Quai d'Orsay.

Shortly afterwards in company with the Queen and the Royal entourage the King made the journey by river in the Royal launch to a reception at the Hotel de Ville following which they attended a luncheon at the British Embassy.

In a brief speech at the Hotel de Ville, in reply to an address of welcome, His Majesty said, "It was with a deep feeling that I crossed the threshold of this Paris Hotel de Ville which calls forth for me so many memories of our common past."

King George VI

My grandfather came here in 1803 and helped to lay the foundations of the entente between France and Great Britain. My father came here in April 1914 to confirm this entente, which soon after received its baptism of fire.

"Today I in my turn have come and I find that our entente has lost nothing of its strength or its vitality. I ask you gentlemen to tell the city of Paris, on our behalf, how much the Queen and I have been moved by your welcome."

"We appreciate enormously the grace and beauty of our reception, the friendly character of which has specially touched us. Therefore, gentlemen, I express to you all my warm and grateful thanks." (British Wireless).

Two Japanese Warships Hit In Raid

Hankow, July 20.

Levant Front Battle

Paris, July 20.

The battle on the Levant front is increasing in scope almost daily, according to French war reports, and is extending to sectors which have seen no action for weeks.

The major offensive begun by the Nationalists nine days ago has resulted in important gains although the chief objectives are still unattained.

Although surrender of Valencia would not signify the termination of the hostilities it would constitute, however, a major step towards a Nationalist victory and herald the approach of the termination of the conflict.

The Republican Spanish headquarters, realizing the seriousness of the situation, have fortified the countryside around Valencia to such an extent that in spite of constant shelling and repeated thrusts the Nationalists have made only insignificant progress. (Transocean).

The opium was found in a brown leather bag in the same room as the Korean and the two Chinese were when the police came upon them. The Japanese came in afterwards thereby implicating himself. The Settlement Police called up the Japanese Consular police and had both of them arrested.

OVERSEAS' CONTRIBUTIONS TO CHINA'S WAR CHEST

Forty Million Dollars Raised Since The Outbreak Of Hostilities

BOYCOTT MOVEMENT IN THE SOUTH SEAS

Canton, July 20.

Overseas Chinese in British Malaya, Siam, Annam and the Philippines have contributed over $40,000,000 to swell China's war chest since the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, according to Mr. Ting Pei-lun, who just returned from a tour to the South Seas under instructions of the Kwangtung Provincial Government.

Mr. Ting said that several of the leading business men there have each subscribed more than $100,000 worth of Liberty Bonds. One Chinese shop apprentice in Singapore, who earns only $4 per month, donated $16 from his savings.

Chinese maid servants in British Malaya raised a total of $1,000,000 and remitted it back to China.

In the Philippines, Mr. Ting continued, the 120,000 Chinese residents had donated some $8,000,000 up to last March, each giving an average of $70, while in the southern part of Annam, more than $3,000,000 was raised by the Chinese community of less than 300,000 persons.

The Chinese in Siam have contributed $7,000,000, while those in the Straits Settlements between $1,400,000 and $1,600,000.

Apart from monetary contributions, the overseas Chinese in the South Seas have also launched a boycott movement against Japanese goods on a wide scale. Effective measures are enforced.

Most of the Chinese residents in the South Seas, according to Mr. Ting, are from Fukien and Kwangtung. They show much concern over the threat of a Japanese invasion in those two provinces and they all hope that China will continue to present a united front and carry the war to a successful conclusion. August 13 Anniversary In Shanghai

POLICE PREPARE AGAINST TERRORISM

Shanghai, July 20.

Undaunted by the reports appearing in the Japanese press charging the police with "lack of training" and negligence, responsible officials of the Shanghai Municipal Police have already begun preparations to prevent, to the highest possible degree, the recurrence of terrorist activities on August 13, the first anniversary of the outbreak of hostilities here.

Police patrols, search parties and patrols of Russian volunteers have been kept on duty day and night for the past week.

On August 13 ever available man in the police and defence forces will be called out to take part in the patrols which have been considerably strengthened. (Reuter).

Need For Peace In Far East

Hankow, July 20.

"The visit of the King and Queen to Paris will not only strengthen Anglo-French friendship but is also likely to make a new contribution to world peace," states the Sao Tan Pao, organ of the Chinese Army, in a leading article today.

From the political and economic points of view, the paper says, Anglo-French co-operation will stabilize the European situation. Before this can happen, however, peace must be established in the Far East. (Reuter).

MORE DAMAGE DONE TO KIAOTSI LINE

Chengchow, July 20.

Further damage has been done by Chinese guerrillas to the Kiaotsi Railway.

Large sections of rails, west of Chullintao, 198 kilometres west of Tientsin, and about 40 bridges, and culverts have been damaged. Traffic is not expected to be resumed on the line presently as it will take the Japanese some time to repair it. (Central News).

"MOPPING UP" OPERATIONS

Chengchow, July 20.

Chinese forces commenced vigorous "mopping up" operations against the Japanese around Hwa-lin, about 84 kilometres north of Linfen, on the Tientsin-Puchow Railway in Shansi yesterday.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japanese by the Chinese during several spirited attacks in the vicinity of Yangcheng, in southeast Shansi, on July 18.

Under the cover of darkness, a Chinese unit staged a surprise attack on the Japanese in Tsinshui, northwest of Yangcheng, on the same day. (Central News).

Fighting On Honan-Shansi Border

Chengchow, July 20.

Fighting has been resumed around Wangwuchen on the Honan-Shansi border.

One thousand Japanese infantrymen pushing westward from the city were attacked yesterday by Chinese troops, lying in ambush at Wulichiao, about five kilometres west. After sustaining heavy losses the Japanese called in reinforcements and launched a counter-assault, directing a concentrated fire on the Chinese.

To avoid unnecessary losses, the Chinese retired to the Taling Mountains. The Japanese did not give pursuit lest they should be trapped in the mountains.

Night raids were staged by Chinese troops at Wangwuchen with much success the day before. Some 300 Japanese were slain.

A fleet of about 60 Japanese army trucks was attacked by Chinese guerrillas on the highway running from Tainyang to Taiyuan in north Honan on Sunday. Twenty trucks were seized and more than ten Japanese guards killed by the guerrillas. (Central News).

CHOLERA MENACE CONTINUES

The cholera menace in the Colony continues, eight cases being revealed on Tuesday, bringing the total of cases so far reported to 188.

Three cases of dysentery and one case each of enteric fever and cerebro-spinal meningitis were also notified on Tuesday.

Japanese In Retreat In S. Shansi

Shenchow, July 20.

Breaking through a Chinese siege, a Japanese contingent at Wangyukow to the north of Pinglu in south Shansi have retreated towards Yungcheng on July 18, according to military reports.

Another large detachment of Japanese in Tanwangchun in the vicinity of Pinglu is still surrounded by Chinese troops with their retreat cut off.

Four or five thousand Japanese troops at Kiangshien, equipped with over 100 field guns and rubber craft, were moving southwestward.

Yanku, on the north bank of the Yellow River, is now cleared of Japanese troops, the enemy garrison there having retreated towards the northwest under heavy Chinese pressure.

In the vicinity of Wenai, heavy fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops raged for several days since July 15, with the latter suffering large numbers of losses. Fleeing in a northward direction, the Japanese are being pursued by Chinese guerrillas. (Central News).

SYSTEMATIC, MEAN AND DESPICABLE FRAUD, PROSECUTION ALLEGES

Dealers Victimised On Licences Question

Three charges of obtaining money by false pretences were preferred against Ng Yuk-ming when he was brought before the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday. Accused, who was represented by Mr. D. J. N. Anderson, instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva, pleaded not guilty and the following jury was sworn in: Messrs. W. Hyde (foreman), A. P. Rozario, Sing Wu-cheng, Chan Kwok-chiu, Chan Kiu-fan, J. B. Pomeroy, and J. B. Inglis.

Following the Crown's outline of the case, and the evidence of one witness, hearing was adjourned till this morning.

Mr. J. Whyatt, Crown Counsel, prosecuting, said that although the amounts involved were small the case was none the less a serious one because, if the Crown's case was proved, accused had been engaged systematically in perpetrating a particularly mean and despicable fraud. He had selected as his victims people who were to a large extent ignorant and who were engaged in earning a very frugal living.

The three persons who had been defrauded were been-curd dealers and therefore required a licence each from the Urban Council in order to carry on their business. To a large extent, these people were ignorant of the law and the procedure whereby a licence could be obtained. The accused knew of this and took advantage of it in such a way that he was able to extract from them sums of money, which to them, at least, were a considerable amount.

MATTER REVEALED

The matter, continued Counsel, came to light in rather an unusual manner. About April this year, one of the victims, Hung Shu-wah, was summoned by a Sanitary Inspector for not having a licence to carry on his trade and was fined $10. In the course of the proceedings, Hung made certain statements, which were passed on to the Police, and as a result of investigations by Inspector Carey, the accused was arrested.

The facts regarding Hung were that one day in September last year, he was sitting in his stall in Kowloon City when defendant, who was a total stranger to him, came and asked him if he was Hung Kam-on. He replied that Kam-on was his brother, and added that he had gone to the country. Accused stated Kam-on had been making bean-curd without a licence, and whilst he was making these observations, he mentioned he was a provisions supplier and supplied provisions to Sanitary Inspectors and to the Police. Accused asked Hung to visit him at his house in South Wall Road.

DRINKS FOR INSPECTOR

Hung went to the house later, and accused told him he should give him $12 to buy drinks for the Inspector, so that there would be no trouble about his manufacture of bean-curd. Hung replied, he had no money, but promised to take it to accused later. He did, and after he had handed the money to accused, the latter said: "I guarantee that no trouble will happen. When the Inspector or any person come to see you, just say I am the master and everything will be all right."

Nothing further happened and everything went on in a satisfactory manner until about January this year when an Inspector, a real one, came round to Hung's stall and asked him for his licence. Hung said he had none, and the Inspector very kindly cautioned him, but warned him to get one.

NO LICENCE

The same day, Hung went and told accused what had happened. Accused said the fee for the licence was $24. After having reminded him of his promise, Hung said he had not the money but eventually it was agreed that he should pay accused $4 in order to get the licence. The following day, Hung paid the money to accused, who, however, did not give him the licence, despite repeated requests.

In the course of investigations by Inspector Carey, facts came to light relating to other people. One of them was Lo Shui-ki, who, like Hung, was also a bean-curd dealer. Lo was at his stall one day in October when accused called and said his master was an Inspector, at the same time asking for $16 so that he could give it to his master.

At that time, Lo had no money, but went to accused's house later. Accused invited him to go out for tea and when they got to the tea-shop, he took out his business card and told Lo that if anyone asked him to stop his business he was to show it. After the money had been handed over, accused told Lo that in two days' time, the Inspector would visit his stall, and, true enough, when that time arrived, he came with a European, who was not an Inspector. In fact, nothing was known of this European.

THIRD VICTIM

Nothing further happened until April this year when Lo, like Hung, was summoned by a real Inspector for not having a licence.

The third man, who was defrauded was Ho Yuet. He was first approached by accused one night in November last. Accused said he was a Government servant and asked for $18 so that he could settle the matter by buying presents for Government servants. The money was paid over, and accused also gave him his card.

Continuing, Counsel suggested that all these representations by accused amounted, either by expressed words or implication, to this: "I am a man who is connected with Government people. Sanitary Inspectors. I am a man who has some influence with them. I am able and have the power to induce these people to allow you to carry on your trade, but I must have money in order to buy them presents." Actually, of course, accused was at no time in such a position, and was an impostor.

When he was formally charged, accused denied having received money from any of these three persons, and added that Lo and Ho had handed the money to one Chan Sung.

Hung Shu-wah gave evidence, after which hearing was adjourned.

SHANGHAI MEN CHARGED

Assault Alleged

Two Shanghai men, Chow Shu-fong and Ho Lo-kou, appeared on remand before Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of assault on Shung Ching-wah, at No. 32, Gilman Bazaar.

Mr. D. MacCallum appeared for the defendants and Mr. Hin-shing Lo was for the prosecution.

Detective-Sergeant C. Downman, who is in charge of the case, told the Court that on July 14, a man named Chow Ah-fat went to No. 136 Jaffee Road, second floor, where he met complainant and asked for a loan of $200. If the loan was refused, Chow Ah-fat was alleged to have asked his men to assault complainant.

A few hours later, complainant went to No. 32 Gilman Bazaar. Chow Ah-fat came in with several men, including the two defendants, and attacked complainant. Police were summoned and the party was taken to the station. Complainant gave evidence after

HEROIN OFFENDER WILL NOT DISCLOSE MASTER

"I am not the master; I am only a foki," said Tang Hung at the Kowloon Court yesterday when charged before Mr. Barnett with keeping a heroin and opium divan at No. 10 Hong Lok Street.

"If you tell the court who the master is, you will go free and the charges against you will be withdrawn," Mr. Barnett promised.

The foki remained silent, resigning himself to the sentence of 12 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

Lam Yui, appearing on a charge of keeping a divan at No. 1 Hong Lok Street, adopted a different attitude.

"I am the tenant of the floor and the sole owner of the opium, the heroin pills, and the opium and heroin pipes," he said.

"You plead that you are master with no show of contrition but as if you are rather proud of it," said Mr. Barnett.

"Yes," replied Lam. "Heroin divan keepers are a peril and a pest to the community. This is a filthy business, unfit for any human being," remarked His Worship. Sentence of 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour was passed.

Mui Tsai Case Raises A Problem

That whether marriage as a concubine constitutes legal marriage according to the English law was the problem which confronted Mr. Butters prior to the commencement of a mul tsai case at the Central Court yesterday.

The question arose when a married woman, Leung Tsai, was charged with failing to report to the S.C.A. the intended marriage of a registered mul tsai, Leung Ngan, as second concubine.

The defence was represented by Mr. W. A. Mackinlay, and the prosecuting officer was Inspector H. W. Fraser, of the S.C.A.

Mr. Butters suggested that the case be adjourned to July 23 for both parties to consult authorities.

TAILOR'S FOKI NOT GUILTY

Forged Notes Case At Sessions

Charged on Tuesday with uttering two forged $10 notes on the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, Cheung Ki-chung, tailor's assistant, was found not guilty at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

The Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, heard the case and the following comprised the jury:

Messrs. L. F. Ball (Foreman), K. T. Alexander, Chow Hon-shu, K. K. Soeren, L. M. Remedios, W. S. Clarke and W. Crichton.

Mr. J. Whyatt, Crown Counsel, prosecuting, while accused was defended by Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall.

BOUGHT PORK

The Crown alleged that on two separate occasions on the same day, June 23, accused went to a newly-opened shop and tendered a forged $10 note in payment of 20 cents' worth of pork. On the first occasion he was successful in that he was given $9.80 change and left the shop before the forgery was detected, but on the second occasion he was arrested.

Yesterday, accused, giving evidence on his own behalf, said he did not go to the shop in the morning, and, as for the afternoon, he did not know the note which he tendered was a bad one.

The jury returned their verdict after a retirement of only five minutes.

THEFT OF CLOTHING

Appearing on remand on two counts of theft of clothing, property of Mr. G. S. Hugh-Jones and Mr. J. E. Yupp at Nos. 3 and 4 Thorpe Manor respectively, Mo Muk, unemployed, was sentenced to a total term of 12 weeks' imprisonment by Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday.

STOLE AGED WOMAN'S EARRING

For snatching from a 68-year-old woman a brass earring valued at 15 cents, Yau Hung, unemployed, was given six months' imprisonment and 12 strokes of the cane when he pleaded guilty to the charge before Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday.

STAPLES SURPRISES!

— IMPROVE YOUR JELLIES —

When making jelly, the flavour is much improved if, instead of using water you use the same amount of juice from two sticks of stewed rhubarb with a little sugar and strained on the jelly.

Should you wish to serve jelly for a sweet, and have not much time for it to "set" well, divide it into individual moulds or cups, standing these in a bowl of cold water to which has been added a handful of coarse salt. They will set in a little while, and you can decorate as liked.

If you have trouble with your jellies not turning out whole, always rinse the moulds with cold water before using them.

And if they are wanted in a hurry, and no ice is available, put the mould into a bowl of cold water, reaching half-way up the mould. Add salt and leave the basin in as cold a place as possible.

Where firm jellies are required for tennis refreshments or garden party use, they can be set to perfection if you stand the mould in a bowl of water containing a good handful of salt and soda.

A mild freezing mixture is the result, and on the hottest day a firm, cool jelly will be the reward.

It is often quite a difficult job to place anything turned out from a mould in the centre of the dish, and to give sundry little jerks to get it in position will often break a jelly or blanc mange.

The trouble may be overcome if a little cold water is run over the dish, on which the mould is to be served. The mould will then slide into position easily, and any surplus water can be wiped away.

There is a correct way to turn out a jelly. First of all dip the whole mould or basin containing the jelly in a bowl of hot water, taking it out again immediately. Now turn it upside down in the glass dish, and with your two thumbs on top of the mould and your fingers grasping the dish, lift them up and give a strong, swift downward shake right from your shoulders.

You will hear the jelly drop with a "plop," and it will be unbroken. If it doesn't do this the first time, do it again, but do not try to get it out with a series of short, quick jerks, from your elbows only. If you do, the jelly is likely to break. Bear in mind that a jelly mixture for a large mould should always be made a little stiffer than for a small one, and especially if it is to be set with fruit. A cream or custard mixture requires a smaller proportion of jelly, as it is already slightly stiff.

Of course, the usual amount of liquid added to a jelly square is a pint, but this should be slightly reduced in very hot weather, to ensure round the edge. Make a jelly using the jelly setting well and of the requisite firmness.

Finally, bear in mind that the success of a jelly largely depends on the mould. This mould should not be too light.

A little on the heavy side is a distinct advantage, for it chills better. The mould should be of a uniform thickness throughout.

ORANGE CHARLOTTE

Butter a cake tin carefully and then fit in sponge fingers all the pure juice of oranges, boiling hot, to melt the gelatine—no water at all.

Let a little of the jelly cool in the bottom of the tin and when slightly set place pieces of orange to make a pretty design.

Pour over a little more jelly, to fix the orange in place and when set fill to the top of the tin.

Leave to cool and then turn out, using round daintily with narrow ribbon. Serve with whipped cream.

COFFEE JELLY

Half pint strong coffee, 4 oz. gelatine, 1 oz. sugar, 3 or 4 drops of vanilla, 1 gill cream, sugar and flavouring, a few pieces of preserved cherry or angelica.

The coffee must be strong and clear. Put it into a lined saucepan with the sugar and gelatine, and dissolve slowly over the fire. Then strain into a basin, add the vanilla, and cool slightly. Rinse out a border mould with cold water and fill it with the coffee jelly. Set aside until firm and turn out when wanted. For the centre whip the cream with a fork until thick and sweeten and flavour to taste. Fill this in the centre of the coffee jelly and decorate with a few pieces of preserved fruits.

ORANGE JELLY (made with fresh fruit)

1 pint orange juice
1 pint water
Rind 2 oranges
Juice 1 lemon
2 tablespoons sugar
1 heaped teaspoonful gelatine (powdered).

TO DECORATE

Sections of orange iced.

METHOD

Put the water, gelatine, sugar and orange rind into a saucepan. Heat gently. Stir until dissolved. Cover and allow to infuse 10 minutes. Strain, add orange and lemon juice. Pour into a wet mould (one 1/2 pint or four small ones). When set, turn out on to a dish. Decorate with sections of iced orange.

PINEAPPLE BAVARIAN CREAM

1 tbs. gelatine
1 cup cold water
1 cup Carnation Milk
1 cup grated pineapple and juice
1 tsp. salt
1 tbs. lemon juice
1 cup sugar

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Heat pineapple, sugar and salt; add the soaked gelatine and lemon juice. Set in a pan of cold water to cool. Whip the cream according to directions as soon as the pineapple mixture begins to thicken. Fold in the whipped cream. Pour into a mould and chill. Serves 5.

GELATINE DESSERTS

In making the following desserts whip 'Carnation Milk' according to directions given.

Carnation Milk (undiluted) is easy to whip if handled properly. It does not make as stiff a whip as regular whipping cream and will not "stand up," so well as a garnish; otherwise it is most satisfactory.

Be sure to have milk, bowl, and beater chilled very cold (below 50 deg.). This is easy with an electric refrigerator or in cold weather. With ice refrigeration, the milk should first be chilled on the ice; sometimes it is advisable to surround the bowl with chilled ice and coarse salt while whipping. Milk partially frozen does not whip well, but will do so when thawed. Carnation triples in bulk when whipped. A small quantity whips more easily than a large. If the milk loses fluffiness, it can be chilled and rewhipped repeatedly. It will not turn to butter.

If the milk is scalded before chilling, it whips somewhat stiffer, and more readily. To scald, follow either of the following methods: (1) Pour milk into top of double boiler and scald over boiling water. Do not discard film or glaze that forms on top; it is very soft and breaks up in whipping. (2) Cover unopened can with cold water, bring to boil, boil 5 minutes. Several cans may be boiled and kept for later use.

When lemon flavour is acceptable, the following method gives added stiffness. Whip milk till foamy; add lemon juice slowly, using 2 tbs. lemon juice to 1 cup milk; continue whipping until stiff. Milk that is cold, but not chilled; may be whipped in this way, but chilling makes the milk stiffer and fluffier.

CHOCOLATE CHARLOTTE

1 tbs. gelatine
2 tbs. cold water
1 cup sugar
1 square bitter chocolate
1 cup water
1 cup Carnation Milk, whipped
1 tsp. vanilla
9 lady fingers
Salt

Soak the gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Melt chocolate in double boiler; add sugar, salt, water, and 1 cup of Carnation Milk. Cook until smooth. Remove from fire, add gelatine and stir until dissolved. Chill. When the mixture begins to thicken add the vanilla and fold in the whipped cream. Stir the mixture until it thickens and then pour it carefully into a mould which has been lined with lady fingers. Chill. When ready to serve remove from the mould, cover with whipped cream and garnish with Maraschino cherries. Serves 6.

NAZI

"HOWLERS"

Amusing "howlers" appear in compositions written by young Nazi men and women who took part in the Reich Professional Competitions, which are held every year in Germany. Here are some of them:

If the Reich's Hereditary Laws had not been imposed, we should all be idiots by now.

We owe our healthy new generation to Adolf Hitler.

Healthy peasants create healthy cattle.

The Reichsminister of economics called for the peasants' sons because the pigs ate too much.

The Reich's motor roads provide workers with employment and enable them to increase and multiply which creates work for the officials.

The Competitions take the form of an examination, open to all workers—professional and otherwise—in which a number of cash prizes are awarded.

TENANTS FIND THINGS HOT

Complaint Leads To Prosecution

Tenants of No. 121 Woosung Street, first floor, found the heat intense and the tiled floor scorchingly hot and made a complaint to the authorities, who on investigation found that the ground floor housed the To Keung Company's factory, where small glass parts of bulbs for electric hand torches were made.

A TENANT'S INFERNO
A veritable inferno for the tenants of the first floor was being created in the following manner:

A glass melting furnace, approximately five feet in diameter, had been built. An electric motor turned a blower fan on to the bulbs being blown into shape. A small inverted zinc sheet funnel, connected to a five-inch zinc pipe leading into the kitchen flue and suspended from the ceiling about three feet above the flames, dispersed some of the heat. The tenants of the first floor received the rest.

FINED $100

Appearing at the Kowloon Court yesterday before Mr. Macfadyen on a charge of keeping a factory for manufacture of glass bulbs in unsuitable premises, the representative of the factory was fined $100.

Finally the captain was tried. He was sentenced to pay a fine of 1500 yen, and on June 30 was eventually released with his ship.

FINGERS BROKEN TO EXTORT CONFESSION

The captain of a Soviet ship who declared that he had his fingers broken, was beaten, imprisoned, and tortured by the Japanese because he refused to answer questions has arrived at Vladivostok on the ship Refrigerator No. 1.

He said he had been detained for 30 days by the Japanese. The ship, he stated, was seized after running aground in fog, was forcibly searched, had all charts and logs taken away, and five of the crew were arrested.

The police procurator refused to tell the captain the charges against him or to notify the Soviet Consul of the detention of the ship.

He was summoned for questions for the third time on June 4, when four men beat him, pulled his hair, and began to break his fingers. They then questioned him for ten hours trying, he declared, to extort a confession that his entry into Japanese waters was premeditated.

In the middle of June officials of the Japanese Intelligence Service took over the questions, and there were more beatings.

The ship was thoroughly ransacked four times, and the Soviet flag carried off. Every day members of the crew were arrested and beaten up before cross-examination.

They were questioned about the positions of Soviet troops, and attempts were made to recruit them as spies.

LORD NUFFIELD

"The Great Doctor Of The Age"

Lord Nuffield was presented with an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the degree day Congregation of Birmingham University recently.

Introducing Lord Nuffield, the Public Orator (Professor R. L. G. Ritchie) said Lord Nuffield had wanted to be a doctor in his youth. He had retained his real admiration for the noble profession and had continued to take an ever-deepening interest in medical science and research. He had endowed at Oxford and elsewhere vast collective inquiries into the mysterious workings of the body and mind, and in that sense he was, as an exponent of the healing art at one or more removes, the great doctor of his age.

Others to receive honorary degrees included Sir Edward Mellanby (secretary of the Medical Research Council); Sir Cuthbert Wallace (president of the Royal College of Surgeons); and Sir Robert Hutchison (president of the Royal College of Physicians).

Lieutenants A. H. Wagstaff and J. D. Butler, I.A., have obtained the special qualification at the Equitation School.

Captain B. E. R. Morton and Lieutenant J. P. Ingles, of The Gloucestershire Regiment, and Lieutenant A. R. G. M. Edwards, The Queen's Own Royal West Kent Regiment, have qualified in M.T. at the R.I.A.S.C. School.

The 1st Battalion, The Cheshire Regiment, will leave Bombay for Khartoum this winter and will return to England during the 1939-40 troping season.

Brevet-Colonel J. D. Fulton, D.S.O., M.C., has retired.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

40 OFFICIAL VICTORIES

Wing Commander P. F. Fullard, D.S.O., M.C., A.F.C., who has been appointed for staff duties with the newly formed Maintenance Command in London, has the distinction of being credited with more official victories against hostile aircraft in the War (40) than any other officer still serving.

NIGHT-FLYING PROCEDURE

Accidents have been caused during night-flying by aircraft swinging while taking-off or landing and striking flare-path personnel. A new order directs that the number of personnel on the landing area is to be kept to a minimum, and such as are necessary are to be grouped during night-flying in the floodlight or No. 1 flare.

Except in emergency, aircraft are not to be given permission to take off or land unless the landing area upwind of the floodlight or No. 1 flare is clear of personnel.

R.A.F. APPOINTMENTS

The following appointments in the Royal Air Force are notified:

GENERAL DUTIES BRANCH

Wing Commander—E. F. Turner, A.F.C., to No. 1 (Bomber) Group Headquarters, Abingdon, for duty as Senior Personnel Staff Officer (June 20).

They called "to protest against his remarks about ships trading to Spain under the Red Ensign. Some of these ships, the admiral has said, are not genuinely British."

Sir Roger said that the captains' visit had not changed his views. "They told me," he said "that they were working for reputable British owners, that their crews were 100 per cent. British and that their ships were well-found."

"I told them that my objections were not directed against properly found British ships manned by British crews trading with Spain. My remarks referred to the disreputable kind of foreign ship which, having secured British registration, is making profits out of the Spanish war under the Red Ensign and with the protection of the British Navy."

"I still contend that we ought not to encourage British registry for this kind of ship." (Evening Standard).

FOOT ITCH
Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 60% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 16 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief; especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST

Based on David Belasco's famous stage play of the same name, with new songs by Sigmund Romberg and Gus Kahn, "The Girl of the Golden West," starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, comes to the screen of the King's Theatre today.

The picture tells the story of the orphan Mary, who owns a poker saloon and dance hall in an early Californian gold-mining town, and her romance with the bandit Ramerex.

Those who have seen and heard the two singing stars in their previous pictures together will be delighted with their latest musical, which features seven new song hits and three familiar tunes.

FOOL-PROOF MYSTERY

Detective story fans, who pride themselves on solving mysteries before the detective, will have one of the toughest jobs of their experience when "The Lady In The Morgue," another one of the famous Universal Crime Club mysteries, opens at the Alhambra Theatre today.

The audience is completely left in doubt until the end as to the identity of the real killer, inasmuch as the plot has been woven so carefully as to practically defy solution.

The cast includes Preston Foster, Patricia Ellis, Frank Jenks, Roland Drew and Morgan Wallace.

CRIMINALS OF THE AIR

Mexican elopements and aerial smuggling feature "Criminals of the Air," which opens today at the Majestic Theatre.

Rosalind Keith and Charles Quigley enact the leading roles in this film. In prominent supporting parts are Rita Hayworth, John Galloway, Marc Lawrence, and Patricia Farr. Miss Hayworth does some original Mexican dancing.

"Criminals of the Air" tells the story of a Government undercover agent who is sent to the trans-border town of Hernandez to aid the U. S. Border Patrol in its fight against a well-organized local band of smugglers that has been flying contraband across the Mexican line.

Microscope That Reveals Tiniest Living Cells

BENEFIT TO MEDICINE

Berlin, July 20.

After six years' arduous and unremitting research, two German scientists, Dr. Ernst Ruska and Dr. von Borries, have succeeded in perfecting an instrument known as the "ultra-ultra" or electronic microscope.

This latest invention enables linear magnifications of 30,000 times to be reached, as compared with the maximum of 2,000 now attainable with the finest optical microscopes.

Hence, the world of infinite minuteness hitherto lying beyond the range of human investigation may be explored with some ease.

The electronic microscope will at first be chiefly valuable in medical research, which for decades has been baffled by the inability to discover, to identify and isolate the bacteria causing certain epidemics and deadly diseases, including measles, influenza and infantile paralysis.

USE OF CATHODE RAYS

These ultra-bacteria will not only be brought within range of vision by the new microscope, but all details of cell life may be observed.

The principle by which these marvels are achieved is the use of cathode rays in the place of light rays as in the optical microscope.

Whereas in the latter magnification is produced by the use of glass or fluorite lenses to deviate the rays of light, in the electronic microscope the cathode rays are deviated by the use of electro-magnetic coils, the whole being contained in a vacuum.—(Trans-ocean).

MALAYA LIKES COSSACK CHOIR

The Don Cossack Choir, which is shortly due to appear in Hong Kong, has just completed a remarkably successful season in Malaya.

The Malaya Tribune describes their performance in glowing phrases.

"Their programme is so varied that it is difficult either to describe individual efforts or pick out specific songs for praise, but there is a strong Russian note throughout as one might expect, and they captured perfectly the subtle sadness that seems to belong to the men of the Steppes," says the paper.

"Of the songs, one of the best was "Those Evening Bells" which showed how perfectly balanced is the choir, and how well versed it is in the art of making choral background to an individual solo.

"Indeed, one of the chief delights of these singers is the way in which—without any orchestra at all—one has the feeling, when one's eyes are closed, that the whole accompaniment is present in the theatre."

English Children At Soviet Camp

Children from England, Spain, Germany and Italy are among the 20,000 boys and girls who have visited the great Soviet youth camp "Artek" on the southern coast of the Crimea, between 1925 and 1938.

A "Greater Artek" is now to be established, in accordance with a decision of the Soviet Government. This will mean the addition of a zoological garden, a large museum, new embankments made of marble, mechanical excavations, a large water stadium with several launches and a children's railway.

The camp already has a subtropical garden of 70 acres. In the new scheme, a wide belt of subtropical trees and plants will stretch for five miles along the coast.

About 4,000 children who have distinguished themselves at school or have shown outstanding talents in music, art or invention, at present take a "rest" each year at Artek.

On arrival they are organised in "pioneer" detachments, in which the entire educational work is concentrated. The days in the camp pass in sports, games, model aeroplane contests, in drawing, painting and modelling.

The entire educational work is conducted in such a manner as is considered would develop the children's keenness, foster their interests in the direction useful for society and help them to find their calling.

Touch wood!

TO certain early races of mankind the oak tree was sacred. They rushed to its shelter whenever danger threatened. Even today when we say "touch wood" we unconsciously seek similar protection.

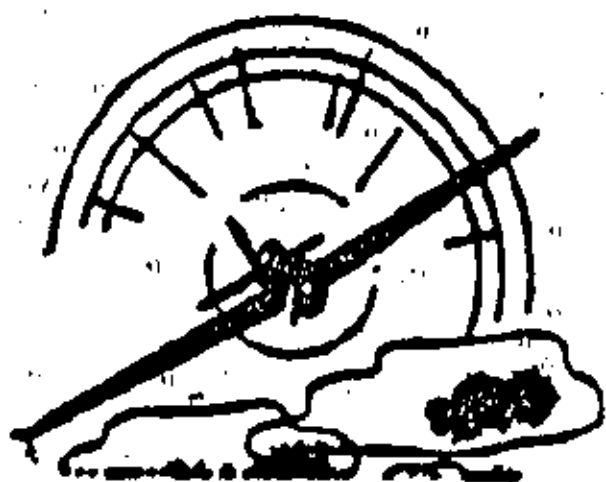

To many thousands of people the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company is giving not just shelter—but very real protection against economic dangers. Like a massive oak, this company has grown to strength from the acorn of small beginnings. Stable as the oak, it has weathered many a storm in the wars, epidemics and speculative panics of half a century.

Today over 200,000 policy holders bear witness to the enviable position which the Manufacturers hold among the great Life Insurance Companies of the world.

STRENGTH OF ANGLO-FRENCH FRIENDSHIP EMPHASISED BY KING AND PRESIDENT LEBRUN

Paris Accords British Sovereigns Warm And Enthusiastic Welcome

International
Cordiality At Elysee Banquet

Peace—Common
Aim Of Both
Great Nations

Paris, July 19.
Their Majesties the King and Queen left Boulogne by train at 1.10 p.m. and arrived at the Bois de Boulogne railway station in Paris at 4.30 p.m.

A salute of 101 guns from the Mont Valerien fortress greeted the Royal visitors.

The station was decorated with impressive splendour and taste. In the centre of the arrival platform a space 50 yards across was curtained off as a dais of honour, with crimson draperies sweeping from the roof.

Two companies of Marines presented arms and the band played the British National Anthem and the Marseillaise as President Albert Lebrun stepped forward to greet the King with a handshake and Madame Lebrun welcomed the Queen.

MYSTERIOUS SHANGHAI GUNFIRE

Hankow, July 20.

Despite the emergency measures taken by the International Settlement against widespread terrorism, gunfire was clearly audible coming from Hungjiao Road at 10.30 p.m. yesterday, according to a Shanghai message.

Settlement police were non-committal when asked about the cause of the gunfire.—(Central News).

CHOLERA SPREADS IN LOYANG

Loyang, July 20.

The cholera epidemic is spreading in Loyang. More deaths have been reported.

Mr. Yang Yung-nien, of the National Health Administration, arrived here yesterday to supervise anti-epidemic work. He brought with him a large quantity of medicine.—(Central News).

EMPHASISES URGENCY OF CZECH PROBLEM

Hitler's Representative Sees Lord Halifax

Berlin, July 20.

Herr Hitler's aide-de-camp, Captain Wiedemann, is at present visiting London and has had a talk with the British Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax.

His visit is officially described as of a private character, but it is believed here that Capt. Wiedemann, in the course of his conversation with Lord Halifax, emphasised the urgency of the Czech problem and declared that there must be no further delay in finding a solution.

It is known that Herr Hitler is most dissatisfied with the lack of progress in the negotiations between the Sudeten Germans and the Czech Government.

While it is felt that Germany might accept a compromise in regard to the treatment of Sudetens and acquiesce in a degree of local autonomy, the Reich authorities would not be prepared to tolerate a continuance of the Czech "connection with Russia" which is held to be responsible for the incidents on the Czech side of the border.—(Reuter).

CZECH CABINET MEETS

Prague, July 20.

Despite the continued allegation by the German press that the Czech authorities are mobilising frontier defence units, the Czechoslovakian Government declared yesterday that everything is normal in the capital, with traffic, postal and telephone communications running smoothly.

The Inner Cabinet met yesterday, and was presided over by the President, Dr. Edvard Benes, who only attends when important matters are discussed.

Sudetens deny that the final stage in the settlement of their differences with the Czech authorities has been reached as far as they are concerned.—(Reuter).

"WARMING UP"

Prague, July 20.

Events in Czechoslovakia are likely to "warm up" during the next few days.

It is understood that the Government's Minorities Statute is now completed and will be submitted to Parliament next week.

Details are not disclosed, but according to usually well-informed newspapers, it will provide a form of self-government for the various nationalities in the national Diet, which have a large measure of autonomy in local administration.

SUDETENS UNSATISFIED

The Sudetens, however, do not indicate any satisfaction at the trend of events.

Their headquarters has published the text of a memorandum handed to the Government on July 8 demanding, inter alia, that local national administrations should be entitled to insist on the application of any measures voted a second time, despite any adverse decision of the President or the National Assembly.—(Reuter).

General Presentation

A general presentation of Cabinet Ministers and other notables followed, the engine driver of the Royal train being included.

President Lebrun then offered the Queen his arm. The King offered his to Madame Lebrun and the procession moved to the specially erected 50-feet high reception hall outside the station, decorated with white, red and gold, hung with priceless tapestries and redolent with banks of flowers, where further presentations took place.

QUEEN MAGNIFICENT

Their Majesties then descended to waiting motor cars.

Queen Elizabeth looked magnificent in a white two-piece gown, the sleeves of which were edged with silver-fox.

King George and President Lebrun entered the first car. Queen Elizabeth, Madame Lebrun and Vice-Admiral Devlin the second, while nine other vehicles were necessary to accommodate the rest of the King's suite, who were accompanied by leading French civil and military officials.

The eighth car was reserved for the Canadian Minister and the South African and Eire Charge d'Affaires.

The procession then started for the Quai d'Orsay, the leading car being surrounded by cavalry.

JUBILANT CROWDS

A crescendo of cheering rose as the cars moved slowly up Avenue

Foch, heralded by a group of motor-cycle police, a squadron of Moroccan Spahis and the Republican Guard.

The dense crowd broke into vociferous cheering along the whole route, along which, at intervals, thousands of doves brought from all parts of the country were released as a symbol of the character of Anglo-French interests.

AT QUAI D'ORSAY

The procession arrived at the Quai d'Orsay at 5.20 p.m. On arrival the King stepped from his car and shook hands with M. Bonnet, who was waiting on the steps, and stood with M. Lebrun while Queen Elizabeth descended from the second car. Madame Bonnet was then presented to the Queen.

President Lebrun, mounted the steps with Queen Elizabeth on his arm, and King George followed with Madame Lebrun lightly touching his arm.

Members of the British Embassy staff and their wives, together with Dominion representatives and their wives, arrived at 5.30 p.m., and were presented to Their Majesties by the British Ambassador.

Their Majesties left the Quai d'Orsay at 5.47 p.m. and drove in an open car to the Elysee to return President Lebrun's official call. They returned to their palace at 6.15 p.m., to rest, and change for the banquet at the Elysee.

ARRIVE AT ELYSEE

Their Majesties arrived at the Elysee at 8 p.m., and the Band of the Republican Guard played the National Anthem as M. and Mme. Lebrun welcomed the Royal couple in the vestibule.

M. Lebrun presented the ladies of his household and afterwards the guests. Presentations completed, President Lebrun and the Queen and King George and Mme. Lebrun led the way to the dining hall.

President Lebrun, in his speech after dinner, expressed the sincere joy of France at greeting the Sovereigns of a nation which was their friend, and expressed sorrow at the circumstances which led to the postponement of the journey.

ANGLO-FRENCH ENTENTE

During his speech, President Lebrun said:

"Born of long tradition, confirmed by constant contact, thoughts and efforts consecrated by the hardest trials, and inspired by the same ideals of liberty and peace, the friendship which unites our two countries has acquired, in the course of its development, strength, which alone can be given by the same conception of human values, to face the different problems of national and international life in generous spirit and understanding."

"The Franco-British Entente was founded by your illustrious grandfather and gave under the glorious reign of King George V a measure of its efficacy during the dark period of the World War.

YUNNAN CHIEF IN HANKOW

To Make Report To Generalissimo

Hankow, July 20.

General Lung Yun, Chairman of the Yunnan Provincial Government, arrived here from Kunming by plane yesterday. He was accompanied by Mr. Kung Chih-chi, Yunnan's Commissioner of Education, and Mr. Miao Chia-ming, manager of the New Futien Bank in Kunming.

Interviewed by the Central News Agency, General Lung said that he had come to report to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on present conditions in Yunnan and to seek instructions concerning reconstruction work and its part in the war of resistance.

He stated that patriotic feeling is high in Yunnan.—(Central News).

PEASANT ELECTED SOVIET CHAIRMAN

Moscow, July 20.

Alexei Badayev, 55-year-old son of peasants, has been elected Chairman of the Presidium of Soviet Russia proper.—(Reuter).

GREAT OBLIGATIONS

"In the world's present state of moral unrest, great obligations still lie on the two nations, both equally interested in human progress."

"The maintenance of peace within the limits of respect for international law permits neither an invitation regarding the task to be accomplished, nor a falling off of the daily effort."

"It is towards this that all our thoughts should most firmly be directed."

KING DEEPLY TOUCHED

His Majesty the King, speaking in French, said he was deeply touched by the welcome, and declared it to be impossible to recall a period during which relations between France and Great Britain had been more intimate.

The two countries were inspired by the same ideals, said the King, and had the same attachment to democratic principles and the same belief in the benefits of individual liberty.

"We are proud of this political faith which we share with other great nations, but we fully realise that it carries with it heavy responsibilities, and in the period in which we live, it demands from us all, to a high degree, noble qualities of courage, wisdom and determination." His Majesty said.

NOT AGAINST OTHERS

His Majesty emphasised that Anglo-French friendship was not directed against other Powers. On the contrary, their Governments ardently desired to find, by means of international agreements, a solution of the political problems threatening the peace of the world, and the economic difficulties that were restricting human well-being.

The actions of their Governments were thus directed towards the common goal of assuring happiness to the peoples of the world by means of true co-operation.

His Majesty concluded by saying that he was deeply touched by M. Lebrun's wishes for the greatness and prosperity of Great Britain and the overseas Dominions, and toasted the honour and glory of France.—(Reuter).

ALLEGED ATTEMPTED EXTORTION FROM MAH JONG SCHOOLS

European Sergeant And Chinese Constables Charged In Kowloon

EVIDENCE OF MASTER AND FOKI

Committal proceedings against five members of the Hong Kong Police Force, charged with attempted extortion of $30 from two proprietors of mah jong schools, were continued at the Kowloon Court yesterday before Mr. Macfadyen.

The five men charged are Charles Hossack Telfer, Leung Chi, Mak Kong-ku, Sun Kui and Pui King-cheung.

Li Yun, foki at the Kai Kee Mah Jong School, said that about 3.15 a.m. on June 9 he was standing inside the door of the mah jong school in Temple Street when he saw three Chinese constables in uniform outside in the street.

A European sergeant was also in the street. Pak San, manager of the Tai Loi Mah Jong School next door, came in and desired to speak to his master.

The policemen were not forcibly preventing anyone from entering the mah jong schools but they shouted and waved their arms in a way which would imply to passers-by that they should not enter the mah jong schools. He saw his master go out with Pak San and approach the policemen.

Lam Kwan, master of Kai Kee Mah Jong School, stated that the school was situated at 48 and 50 Temple Street and that there were ten tables at each address. At the identification parade he had identified second, third, and four defendants. About 3 a.m. on May 9 he had approached the policemen who had gathered outside his school and had asked them what they wanted of him. Third defendant had said that they wanted money. He asked, "How much?" The third defendant asked the first defendant in English, "How much?" The third defendant then told him in Chinese, "$30." He asked "$30 from each house?"

"ON THE TENTH" Third defendant answered in Chinese, "No. From all the houses together." Witness then said in English, "Alright" and added in Cantonese, "Dak la." Third defendant then asked when the money would be paid. He answered "On the tenth." And asked "Pay to whom?" He heard the European sergeant say in English, "No." The policemen then went away.

Between 10.30 and 11.30 p.m. on May 10 he was standing on the pavement outside of Kai Kee mah jong school. The fourth and fifth defendants came up to him and said, "You promised to pay the sergeant on May 10. Why haven't you?" They were clad in mufti. He asked them why they did not tell the sergeant to come. They said that they could not speak English and suggested that he would send a man who spoke English to the sergeant.

On the morning of May 11 about 9 a.m. he saw third and fourth defendant.

Mr. L. R. Andrews, Assistant Crown Solicitor is conducting the prosecution. Mr. Leo D'Almada, Sr., is representing Telfer and Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ the other four defendants.

Further hearing of the case will be proceeded with on August 4, 5, 8 and 9.

THE CHINESE SOLDIER

THERE is only one person of equal importance in China: the Chinese private soldier. He does not look particularly aggressive as he marches along the Bund in Hankow on his way to entrain for the front, a little awed by the tall unattractive buildings of the foreigners. His uniform is indeed smarter and his equipment better than it used to be. His rifle is clean; his potato-masher bombs are stowed about his person with a reasonable degree of care; the huge straw hat hanging on his back is gaily camouflaged; also he has a steel helmet as well as an umbrella and an electric torch; and his pack probably contains one or two spare pairs of cloth shoes or straw sandals.

He gets $10 a month; some of it he sends back to his family, some of it he gambles, some of it he spends on cigarettes, and his family other luxuries. If he is wounded, and if he gets back to a hospital, he is entitled to a bonus. Incidentally his chances of surviving a serious wound have been greatly increased by improved organization during the last four months.

SENDS PAY BACK TO HIS FAMILY. If you follow him up to the front you will notice that the Chinese infantryman has at least two very valuable military qualities. One is his mobility. Few parts of China are so poor or so devastated that he cannot live on them in the style to which he is accustomed. Coolies carry, at a brisk walking pace, his reserves of ammunition, his perfunctory medical supplies, and the company's cooking-pot. He can outmarch any infantry in Europe; more important, he can outmarch the unhappily booted Japanese.

HIS second military asset is probably unique: you cannot bore him. It makes no difference at all to him whether the dusty open cattle-truck which he shares with 50 other men takes one day or two days or three days to reach its destination. Take him out of it and station him in a gutted village or a deserted farm, and he is perfectly content to remain there indefinitely. His moral is wholly unaffected by action or uncertainty. The chances are that he is the younger son of a peasant family. If he were at home he would be working 12 hours out of the 24. Home is a fine place; but at home nobody pays you $10 a month for doing practically nothing all day.

PRIZE DAY OF GARRISON SCHOOL

Successful Year Reported

The annual prize-giving of the Garrison Elder Children's School took place yesterday morning in St. Andrew's Church hall when Mrs. L. A. Newham, wife of Major L. A. Newham, M.C., Officer Commanding the Middlesex Regiment, distributed the prizes.

Among those present were Major H. H. Joseph, B.A., A.E.C., and Mrs. Fabel, wife of the Headmaster of the School.

In the course of his report, the Headmaster remarked that the School had had a successful year. Two regiments left Hong Kong and were replaced by two other regiments.

Attendance was good, except during the period when two epidemics necessitated pupils' absence from school. These epidemics were measles and mumps.

The Headmaster asked parents of children attending the School to refrain, if possible, from keeping them at home, when they should be attending school.

After Mrs. Newham had presented the prizes, a bouquet was presented to her by a pupil of the School.

WOUNDING A WAITRESS

Factory Worker Sent To Gaol

Three years' hard labour was imposed on Lo Pak-kon, a factory worker, by the Acting Police Judge, Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, when he was convicted at the Criminal Sessions yesterday on one or two counts of wounding.

Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith, Crown Counsel, said accused had committed a vicious and brutal assault on a young waitress with whom he formerly co-habited.

The first count alleged that Lo had on June 9 last, at On Long, wounded Chu Wai-fong, 19, waitress, with intent to do her grievous bodily harm or to maim, disfigure or disable her. The second and lesser count alleged that on the same date, Lo had maliciously wounded the waitress.

Accused pleaded not guilty to both counts, and the following Jury was empanelled: Messrs. A. R. Brown (foreman), Wan Shing-tet, Rung Shu-fung, E. P. Sammon, S. E. Green, A. S. Potter and J. C. Dryburgh.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the first charge.

SHANGHAI FOREIGN TRADE IN JUNE

According to the monthly returns issued by the Chinese Maritime Customs covering the foreign trade of Shanghai, net imports during June 1938 totalled $18,775,501. Net exports totalled $15,146,800. January-June figures were $104,171,802 and $72,882,299 respectively.

SENTENCE IN FORGED NOTES CASE REDUCED

Acting Chief Justice Alters Own Decision

The sentence of two years' hard labour passed on Chan Chun-shing, 37, soy preserver, and a native of Amoy, on Monday after he had been found guilty of uttering a forged $100 note at the Bombay Silk Store and possession of same, was reduced by Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, Acting Chief Justice, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

Addressing prisoner His Lordship said: "Since I sentenced you on Monday last to two years' hard labour, I have given your case very careful consideration. Accepting as I do the likelihood that your original possession of that $100 note was innocent, that your story of fleeing to Hong Kong from Amoy on account of bombing of your premises there is true, I have come to the conclusion that the sentence I passed on you was, in the circumstances of the case, too severe."

DELIBERATE RUSE

"Your crime, though greater in degree, is no different in essence from that of a person who finds himself in possession of a bad 10-cent piece and gets rid of it by putting it in a slot machine; and your deliberate ruse did not in fact injure anybody because it was detected. Moreover, I have ascertained that at the recent Sessions a woman, who was charged with possessing a forged $5 note and the circumstances made it clear that she was a member of a gang, the sentence was only the same as that I have passed on you."

"At the same time, you did think out a deliberate and wicked plan, which if it had succeeded, would have victimised others, and there is no excuse whatever that, because you have been victimised yourself, you should try and recoup your losses by cheating others."

"You deserve punishment, not only as a lesson to yourself but also as a deterrent to other people who may find themselves in the same position. In the circumstances of the case, I think justice would be done if I find you $250 with the alternative of six months' hard labour on the charge of uttering, and discharge you with a caution on the count of possession."

RADIO CASES IN KOWLOON MAGISTRACY

Chinese Fined $75

A fine of $10 was imposed by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday on L. G. Alves, of 49 Granville Road, who had failed to notify the Licence Bureau that he was removing apparatus for radio communication, for which he held a licence, to his new residence at 49 Granville Road.

Lau Kwok-ying, of 21 Wong Chuk Street, was fined $40. He did not have a licence for his radio communication apparatus, not having renewed the licence which had expired on the pretext that he intended scrapping the set as it was in poor condition and old.

Chan Fan, of 5 Fook Wing Street, was fined $75.

Mr. A. E. E. Jeffries, who prosecuted in all three cases, stated that he had called on 5 Fook Wing Street, where he had met with a very unwelcome reception. The door had been slammed in his face, but not before he had seen a boy of about 10 years running into another room with a parcel. On finally forcing his way into the room, he located the parcel which turned out to be a radio set, for which the tenants had no licence.

Hello & Goodbye

— BY A. W. HYER —

The old Man in the Weather Department has been "dishing out" some poor climate for the travellers in the past forty-eight hours. But that is alright. There is nothing like saying "hello" and "goodbye" in the rain. We get all wet, the voyager may get all wet and everyone has a wet good time of it.

Now that we have the rain department typed and it is just a cinch—our worries commence—how in the dickens can you say "adieu" and "Hi" in semi-typhoon weather which is supposed to be down the coast and arrives next month? What's the modern way to tackle these "Big Winds" which come piling in here? Suggestions please!

M. V. Felix Roussel

WEDNESDAY, 1 P.M. and it poured and poured as this comfortable, white vessel, Felix Roussel of Messageries Maritimes took out for Shanghai.

And who do you suppose goes a vacationing by the French Line?

Mr. M. L. Lessner sailed for home in Shanghai and a two weeks holiday. Of course, it will be a rest, relaxation, up there in the north for Pan American Airways' Hong Kong Operation Chief.

We expect to see you return with a large package of health—Have a good time!

Air France.

THE OLD WEATHER MAN gave the three charming officers of Air France a ride for their money, Wednesday a.m., they reported, on their arrival from Hanoi, at Kai Tak, 12.40 p.m.

The second trial flight of Air France was completed in the same Fokker airship, used last week.

The new Dewoitine plane will not arrive until the official inauguration, which will be August 10th.

Mr. R. Ohl, Messageries Maritimes Number One and Agent for Air France greeted Captain P. Fubachin and his assistants, Mr. M. Callet and Mr. E. Belfois on their first call at Kai Tak.

Approximately 38 pounds of mail was delivered by "La Resolute", Air France's plane, to the Post Office here.

S. S. Rawalpindi.

IN AND OUT THE SAME day was the S.S. Rawalpindi and this did not give one of her passengers Miss A. Claire of Singapore, much time to greet her friends in the Colony.

This attractive blond Miss is leaving her Papa, who supervises the buying and selling of stocks and bonds in the Singapore office of Swan, Culbertson and Fritz; for a year of schooling in the United States.

On arrival in Shanghai, Miss Claire will be joined by two school friends and together the three of them embark on the Maersk Lines' Niel Maersk for New York.

Higher education at Bryn Mawr will claim their time until next summer shows up. Good luck, Hokozaki Maru.

TIME OUT WHILE WE SKID backward a couple of days.

Friday, last, 6 p.m. away for the south and Europe went N.Y.K.'s Hokozaki Maru packed with passengers.

Mr. David T. Hartley, a professor of History was out to see the world.

The professor who hails from Fort Wayne, Indiana, was amazed with Hong Kong. "People have no idea what they are talking about in the States when they commence on the Far East," he stated. His one recommendation was for a year of travel round the world in the four year college course. (I think you have something Professor?).

We hope you continue to enjoy your jaunt and can give them some of the real low down in Indiana.

Conte Verde.

SATURDAY, 11 P.M. Everyone, passengers and the goodby wavers, all appeared to have much.

R.M.A. DAEDALUS

R.M.A. Daedalus arrived at Kai Tak at 6 p.m. yesterday with mail and three passengers, among whom was Miss Marjorie Schuler, author, and correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor. Miss Schuler is crossing the Atlantic and Pacific under the auspices of Pan American Airways.

Miss Schuler will be leaving Hong Kong on Saturday by plane. The other two passengers were Mr. Watts and Mr. Bertman.

C.N.A.C. PLANE ON SPECIAL TRIP

A plane belonging to the C.N.A.C. was specially chartered by the Central Bank and made the trip to Hankow yesterday morning. Aboard were three Chinese attached to the bank. It is understood that the mission of the plane was to transport some cash to the Bank's branch in Hankow.

fun when the Conte Verde sailed for Singapore and Italy.

A Colony visitor and Engineer for Socony Vacuum, Mr. N. J. de Geest was sorry to say aloof, but happy to be going back to Batavia to call on the family.

A two day look-see is about all this busy gent will have, then off again via K.L.M. for Bangkok and more work in that city for his Company.

We hope your three week visit with us was pleasant and that soon again we can say Hello, Empress of Japan.

THREE P.M. ALL TIED UP and sitting pretty was the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan from Manila.

And now all the Pretty Single Ladies of the Colony, just listen. Arriving via this luxurious steamer is none other than Mr. S. W. G. Lehman of Socony Vacuum Company. And Ladies he is quite scrumptious. This attractive bachelor has been very busy working for his Company in Manila. However, Hong Kong will be his future address.

We were down to "Extend The Usual Courtesies," sorry to have missed you; but here they are. "Hello, glad to know you are joining the Colony for awhile, a very nice addition."

Pan American Airways

MONDAY 8.30 A.M. Pan American Clipper hopped, skipped and jumped into the air for Manila. And what a load of Big Shots and Brass Hats from the Colony went with her.

Here is the roll call. Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones, Mr. E. L. Pap, Mr. G. Garey, Lieut. Commander A. D. S. Murray, Mr. E. F. Cecil, Mr. C. Crommellin and my pet Mr. E. A. Kinsey.

They are all going to be "done in" by the Brass Hats in Manila, in the way of having a good time and seeing that city, with a side trip to Baguio. Of course, it will be one of those trips each of you will speak of this time next year.

Imperial Airways

SIX P.M. WEDNESDAY Kai Tak was a pretty hot spot. We were just about ready to wilt when along comes Imperial Airways' Daedalus, in from Bangkok.

Captain J. N. Wilson appeared rather weary and hot as he eased himself out of the plane—and politely amidst grime and said "Nuts" when we sweetly and with much demureness asked regarding his trip!

An extremely interesting person arrived via the "Daedalus" last evening, Miss Marjorie Schuler who has taken herself a-lying over this patch of earth called the world.

This well known writer of books and news events has been spending most of her days lately in the ether, flying about. Leaving Southampton, June 1st, she has called at Kenya, then on to make the first flight to Australia via Imperial Airways when they inaugurated their service to that country several weeks ago. Back to Bangkok and now Hong Kong.

Imperial Airways is a wonderful air service and reports (and look out Mr. Dobbs in Bangkok, here it comes) Mr. R. M. C. Dobbs in the Bangkok Traffic Department of Imperial Airways is the most charming person I have met in this Company on my whole trip, Salute.

Miss Schuler plans to fly to Alameda via the Pan American Clipper this Saturday. It will then be cross the United States to the east coast, where she awaits the inaugural flight across the Atlantic Ocean. We hope you will put forth another vivid story in book-form on this round the world, flying jaunt, of yours, Miss Schuler.

Another passenger arriving Imperial's Plane was Mr. Hans Bertman.

This very handsome gentleman is going places with speed. Leaving Templehoff, July 18th, he now has finished the first leg of his round the globe in 19 days—Trip. We shall be put to say goodbye Saturday when you leave for America via the Clipper and hope your stay in the Colony is a pleasant one.

That will be all Ladies and Gentlemen Public—we are Pooped.

JAPANESE WILL ENDEAVOUR TO AVOID CONFLICT WITH SOVIETS

General Lushkov Reveals Strength Of Russia

SUPPORT OF IL DUCE UNCERTAIN

Shanghai, July 20.
That Japan will endeavour to avoid a conflict with Soviet Russia is the opinion of the majority of foreign correspondents and observers here who are acquainted with conditions in Japan and Russia. They believe that Japan has reserves for a war with Soviet Russia but is met by hostile world opinion. The support of Mussolini is uncertain in view of the Anglo-Italian agreement. In their opinion, while many people in Germany are sympathetic towards China.

The Soviet land, sea and air strength has been revealed by General Genrich Samoilovich Lushkov, former Far Eastern chief of the OGPU, who has escaped to Japan.

He said:
"Stalin thinks it is the time that Soviet Russia should deal a fatal blow to Japan by the operation of her Far Eastern army and Pacific fleet when Japan's military strength is completely exhausted due to the protracted Sino-Japanese hostilities."
"Soviet Russia has approximately 400,000 troops east of Lake Baikal. Of the total, about 270,000 represent the Far Eastern army and 130,000 are troops of the Soviet Far Eastern political bureau under my command, and miscellaneous troops under the Baikal military administration.

"Besides these troops, there are 25 sniper divisions. Along the Russo-Manchukuo border, some 2,000 military planes are awaiting instructions. About 90 submarines of various types are ready to start activities in Vladivostok, and other ports." (International).

MOORLAND COTTAGE OF HARDY SOLD TO FARMER

The moorland cottage where Thomas Hardy, the novelist, was born June 2, 1840, and which he wanted to remain the home of an ordinary labourer living in an ordinary labourer's world, was sold recently to a Dorchester farmer, P. F. Parsons.

The seller was, Lady Hanbury, widow of Sir Cecil Hanbury. Before he passed on in 1928 Hardy had asked Sir Cecil to keep the cottage so it would be "taken no particular notice of by anybody, certainly not by sightseeing tourists."

The eight-room house with old earthen walls stands at the edge of Puddleton Heath, a stretch of wild moorland which Hardy called "Egdon Heath" in his novels. There the novelist wrote "Far From the Madding Crowd" and "Under the Greenwood Tree."

American admirers of Hardy erected a granite column beside

HONG KONG SWIMMERS BEATEN IN MANILA

Doreen Weir Wins Race In Great Style For Visitors

Manila, July 16.

The pick of local men swimmers proved too good for the visiting swimmers from Hong Kong in the special swimming meet for the Hong Kong Accounting Students delegation yesterday afternoon at the Rizal Memorial Swimming Stadium, states the Manila Bulletin. The Filipino boys made a clean sweep of all the events.

The visitors, however, did well in the women events. Doreen Weir, of the Hong Kong team, easily won the 100-metres free style and helped win the 150-metres medley relay. The absence of Philippine Women's University swimmers, national champions and mainstays of the Philippines in foreign meets, was conspicuously noticed.

In the men's events, A. Jikrum, veteran Olympic performer, and Diosdado Bonus, youthful breaststroke ace of the Far Eastern University, emerged with flying colours. Jikrum defeated a strong field of contestants in the 100-metre free style with a time of 1 min. 15 secs. Bonus won handily the 200-metre breaststroke with a good time of 2 min. 55.4 secs.

VARSITY SWIMMERS
University of the Philippines swimmers, headed by I. Pallao, won in an exciting 200-metre medley relay. Pallao set a fast pace, and the lead was maintained to the finish by his team mates. Jikrum and Larrazabal aided San Beda in winning the 300-metre medley relay.

E. Sarangiao, of the Far Eastern University, came from behind and won a close and thrilling 100-metre backstroke race. A brilliant burst of speed in the last 10 yards enabled him to finish ahead of Salamet, of San Beda College, by a flash of a second.

VISITORS FETED
The Hong Kong visitors were honoured with a dinner party, given by PAAF officials at the Rizal Memorial Tennis Stadium, following the meet. The visitors left last night on the S.S. Tinegara to continue a tour of the South Seas.

RESULTS
The complete results of the meet follow:

Ten Thousand Go To See Dwarfs Marry

A crowd of nearly 10,000 packed the streets round the Church of the Sacred Heart at Blackpool recently to see the wedding of the midgets, Annie Knaps and Herman Retter. She is 3ft. 5in., he is 2in. taller.

Above you see the couple passing a bearded guard of honour of Laplanders after the ceremony.

Women were trampled on, others fainted, traffic was disorganised and police reinforcements had to be rushed in a patrol car.

When the tiny couple arrived for the ceremony girls surged round the car to wish the groom good luck. Many who tried to stand on the running-board were checked by the police.

All the while the "little grown-up" smiled and Herman politely kept raising his top hat.

The church was packed with 1,800 people. Hundreds were turned away from the door long before the ceremony began.

Afterwards the bride and groom had to stand on chairs to sign the register.

Herman told the "Daily Mirror" that he and his bride will spend their honeymoon driving in a taxi round the countryside near Blackpool.

"We can't afford a world cruise," he said.

Immediately after the wedding bride and groom returned to their small house in Tiny Town, Olympia, Blackpool. Later they appeared in the show.

Annie is twenty-seven and Herman twenty-eight. They fell in love at first sight when they met in a show eight years ago.

THE YELLOW RIVER MAY FIND NEW OUTLET

China's Mighty Stream Through The Centuries

Hankow, June 23.

The floods in Honan which have forced the Japanese troops to abandon their drive toward Chengchow may mark the beginning of another of the periodic changes of the course of the Yellow River (Hwangho). It is possible that its muddy waters may be diverted into the Yangtze, in which event it will seriously affect the future conditions of the Shanghai harbour.

Latest reports indicate that the torrents rushing in through two large breaches in the southern dyke between Kaifeng and Chengchow, have already crossed the Lunghai Railway, the road-bed of which, being higher than the surrounding countryside, used to serve as a second line of defence in stemming the river.

Bringing down large quantities of silt, the floods are now rolling in a southeasterly direction into the Chia Lu River, apparently headed for the Yin River and later the Hwai River on the Honan-Anhui border. By following the Hwai River, which irrigates large parts of Anhwei and northern Kiangsu, the floods will eventually meet the Grand Canal.

Because of the relatively flat topography in that area, the Yellow River waters may well considerably the current in the Grand Canal, which begins from the east of Peiping in the north to the neighbourhood of Hangchow in the south. Where the canal crosses the Yangtze River near Chinkiang, below Nanking, is likely to be the rendezvous for two of China's largest streams.

A GRAVE PROBLEM
After having merged with the Yangtze River, the Yellow River waters may flow due eastward into the sea. In that case, the harbour of Shanghai, being situated at the confluence of the Yangtze and the Whangpoo Rivers, will be given a grave problem. Even as it is, the Shanghai harbour needs constant dredging at a cost of millions of dollars every year.

That the Yellow River is worse than the Yangtze in the amount of silt washed down from the upper regions is a well-known fact. For the two rivers to merge into one will entail a tremendous increase in dredging expenditures to the port authorities of Shanghai.

Another possibility is that a part of the Yellow River waters, instead of turning eastwards to follow the Yangtze, will rush southward along the southern portion of the Grand Canal. When this happens, Taihu Lake will cease to be a lake but a swollen reservoir of a new mighty river which, passing Soochow, will make the latter city a Venice indeed.

As the Grand Canal ends near Hangchow, the city famous for its scenic beauty, the Yellow River, now gushing through the breaches in northern Honan between Kaifeng and Chengchow, will have another outlet, a roundabout one, to the sea at the Hangchow Bay, a short distance south of Shanghai.

CHANGING OUTLET

Speculations are rife as to what will happen to the present bed of the Yellow River along which it has been flowing since 1855. Hwangho is notorious for its habit of changing its outlet to the sea. The latest of these periodic changes took place 83 years ago when it altered its original mouth at Hailchow. This, however, was only one of many movements the river has made through the centuries.

For a long time Tientsin was its outlet to the sea. At other times it selected the Yangtze near Chinkiang as its rendezvous with the ocean. Thus, when the flood waters now creating havoc in central Honan should actually flow steadily in a southeasterly direction and pour into the Yangtze, they are not doing anything new but merely renewing an old acquaintance made centuries ago.

Whether the Yellow River will desert its present bed leading to the Gulf of Chihli is a most interesting question. One thing is certain, namely, with the war going on and the river rising continuously the Chinese cannot repair the present breaches in the southern dyke north of the Lunghai Line.

The Yellow River waters nine provinces. After emerging from the mountains at Mengtsing in western Honan, it meanders widely through about 700 kilometres of flat alluvial plain before it reaches the Gulf of Chihli.

The Chinese Government has spent millions of dollars annually in maintaining two long retaining walls throughout the river's course across the plain country. The river is heavily silt-laden. As a result, at numerous places its bed

PLANE EXPORTS FROM BRITAIN

Sir Thomas Inskip Explains Procedure

Export of military aircraft supplied by the British constructor to a foreign buyer, must be authorised by the Air Ministry.

In answering a question asked recently by a member of Parliament, Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for Co-ordination of Defence, explained the principles which govern export of military planes from Britain.

He said that the total number of British military aircraft exported in 1937 was 284, including 70 supplied to the Dominions, and added:

EXAMINED BY COMMITTEE

"Every inquiry has been examined by a committee set up for the purpose. Dominion orders have been given the highest practicable preference, and particular regard has been paid to the requirements of countries with whom we have special treaty relations."

"The execution of foreign orders has with rare exceptions, taken place during the change-over from one Service type to another and has had the advantage of keeping in employment during this interval men who might otherwise have been temporarily discharged."

"In this way it has been found possible to continue an export trade and to retain markets which it is most important for British industry to maintain and develop with little if any prejudice to the most rapid flow of deliveries obtainable for our own programme."

"Only in the case of 10 aircraft could it be said that Royal Air Force deliveries were affected and in all those cases there were special considerations which justified the action taken."

GERMANY, JAPAN HEAD BUYERS OF PERU COTTON

Germany was the largest purchaser of Peruvian cotton in the first four months of 1938, displacing the United Kingdom as the chief export market for the product, according to a report from Lima.

During the period Japan became a new customer for Peruvian cotton.

tom is actually higher than the towns and cities behind these dykes. This has made flood-prevention work there an endless task and floods an almost regular happening.

The Yellow River, like any other mighty stream, always insists on finding its natural course, and history has shown that no amount of dyke-building has been able to control it permanently. If in addition to its present mouth at the Gulf of Chihli, the Yellow River can also pour its waters into the Yangtze and into Hangchow Bay, it may prove to be a permanent solution of China's sorrow. Is this possible? It remains to be seen.

CRAIGENGOWER GOES DOWN TO C.S.C.C.

Recreio Now The Favourites For League Honours

The defeat sustained by Craigengower at the hands of the Civil Service C.C. was the feature of Saturday's lawn bowls matches. This defeat has sorely crippled Craigengower in the race for championship honours which, very likely, will go to Recreio who are now four points ahead of their nearest rivals—the Kowloon Cricket Club—with the same number of matches played.

Recreio should bring home the bacon for the second year in succession as, with three more matches to play, they have to win only two to make their position unassailable. Of their three remaining matches, the one against the K.B.G.C. should be their most difficult, but the Civil Servants and the Indians should put no obstacles in their way.

The Civil Servants, playing on their own green, beat Craigengower C.C. by one shot. Both S. Randle and J. F. McGowan tied with B. W. Bradbury and R. Basa respectively. J. Hollidge provided the C.S.C.C. with the single shot needed for a win in beating U. M. Omar by 21-20.

The K.C.C. have jumped into the second place in the League Table. Craigengower, who occupied that position last week, have now moved into the third place as a result of their defeat. The K.C.C. last Saturday beat the Indians at home by 19 shots. All their skips were up.

At King's Park, Recreio beat the Police by ten shots. F. K. M. Silva had the better of A. E. Carey by 14 shots and R. F. Luz beat E. G. Pinst by three shots. H. A. Alves went down to G. C. Moss by seven shots.

CRAIGENGOWER WELL UP

In the Second Division Craigengower trounced the Police to the tune of 44 shots. They were up in all rinks. J. Cavanagh being credited with the biggest margin of victory in beating W. McHardy by 25 shots.

Talkoo Dock R.C. must unexpectedly took two points from Recreio when they met on the former's green. R. M. Keown saved the day for Talkoo by beating J. J. Basto by seven shots. Both D. Munro and T. F. Stalton lost to B. Basto and F. K. Soares by 16-20 and 19-20 respectively. Keown's seven shot victory therefore enabled Talkoo Dock to win by two shots.

THIRD DIVISION

In the Third Division, the Kowloon Football Club have again won by a handsome margin. Playing at home, they beat the weak Yacht Club team by 47 shots. All three K.F.C. skips were successful. The best performance, however, was put up by T. Gibson, who beat G. S. Archbutt by 24 shots.

SEAFORTHS AT POLO

Out Of Shanghai Tyro Cup

The Tyro Cup polo match in Shanghai on Friday last proved to be the elimination of the Seaforts (MacLagan, Macfarlane, Franklin and Wolfe Murray) from the tournament. They were beaten by the Ancient Britons (W. R. Johnston, Elles, Mactier and Hughes) by three goals to two after a close game.

The bumpy state of the ground was no doubt responsible for several rather spectacular misses. None excelled particularly but there were flashes of brilliant play.

SHANGHAI RECS JUBILEE

The 50th anniversary of the Shanghai Recreation Club was celebrated on July 9 in the Club Pavilion. The festivities commenced with a tennis party, which was followed by a cricket match played between the ReCs and a Shanghai side.

KHAN PLAYS WELL

A. R. Dallah's rink (D. M. Khan, M. Y. Adal and A. K. Minu) have advanced to the semi-final round of the Rinks Championship as a result of their victory over P. A. Xavier, A. M. Xavier, M. A. Carvalho and L. A. Guillerrez. This game was played on the Police green on Sunday. Khan, as Dallah's lead, played a good game and had P. A. Xavier beaten most of the time, but M. Y. Adal did not have matters entirely his own way, as his opponent (A. M. Xavier) was playing very well indeed. A. K. Minu did not find the heavy green to his liking and was inclined to be short. The two skips also played well.

The game on the whole was interesting and up to the 18th head when the score was 16-16, the outcome was wavering in the balance. But thereafter, Dallah and his men forged ahead to win eventually by 21-19.

In a first round match in the Lawn Bowls Singles Championship played on the Recreio green on Monday, G. N. Mitchell beat A. M. Omar by 21-14. On the 11th head, Omar as the result of scoring a possible, led by 11-8. However, he scored only three more shots for the remainder of the game which was decided on the 21st head. Mitchell scored on 13 heads for his 23 shots.

The following is the forecast for Saturday's matches:—

FIRST DIVISION

Craigengower v. Kowloon Dock. K.C.C. v. Civil Service C.C. L.R.C. v. Recreio. K.B.G.C. v. Police.

BRADMAN COMPLETES TWENTY CENTURIES

Brilliant Innings With Hassett As Partner

Don Bradman, the Australian cricket captain, completed his 2,000 runs for the present tour in England today by hitting up 144 against Notts at Nottingham and helped the tourists to beat their hosts by 412 runs.

Bradman displayed some wonderful off-driving in his innings, which lasted 179 minutes, and hit up a six and 17 fours.

A. L. Hassett gave his skipper splendid support with a knock of 124 and helped to "put on" 218 runs in 140 minutes. Hassett played a chanceless innings, being brilliant in his driving and "leg-shots. His best scoring strokes were six and 15 fours.

In the first innings, Australia scored 243 and in reply Notts made 147. Barring again, Australia declared at 453 for four wickets, the chief scorers being Bradman and Hassett.

Notts failed again at bat, being all out for 137, of which J. Hardstaff, who has been selected for the Fourth Test at Leeds, made 67 not out. L. O. B. Fleetwood-Smith was in one of his good moods and sent back five Notts batsmen for 30 runs.

At Colchester, Essex defeated Sussex by an innings and 13 runs. Sussex scored 124 (Ray Smith 5 for 38) and 398, while Essex, in their only innings, declared at 635 for six wickets, of which Taylor made 193 and T. N. Pearce 121 not out.

NORTHANTS v. HAMPSHIRE
At Northampton, Northants took points on first innings from Hampshire.

Hampshire scored only 97 in their first innings (Partidge 5 for 29 and Buswell 4 for 41) and 301 for nine wickets declared in the second, while Northants put up 180 and 133 for 6.

Hardcourt Tennis Tournery To Start Next Month

TSUI WAI-PU TO DEFEND HIS SINGLES TITLE

According to information obtained yesterday arrangements are now in hand for the staging of the Hardcourt Tennis Championships (under the auspices of the United Services Recreation Club), a competition that proved so popular with the exponents of tennis in the Colony last summer.

In the ordinary course of things, the only open tournament (for men) is that run by the Hong Kong Cricket Club early in the season. Apart from this there is only the League to provide competition amongst the different clubs in the summer months.

For this reason the Tennis Committee of the U.S.R.C. are to be congratulated for deciding to again hold the tournament this summer.

Competition will start on August 29, entries closing a week previously. Entry forms will be sent to every club affiliated to the local L.T.A. and present indications are that the entries will exceed those of last year.

TSUI DEFENDING TITLE
Tsui Wai-put, the Colony champion, is the holder of the hardcourt title as well. He also won the doubles with Willie Hung and it is believed they will be pairing again this time, while Tsui will also be defending his singles title.

The Rumjahn cousins, I hear, will make another effort to win the hardcourt title (doubles) while Omar Rumjahn, recently returned from Tientsin, is, I understand, on the look-out for a partner.

Paul Kong of the Chinese R.C. will be entering with D. Suto and most of the Colony's leading players will figure in this tournament.

The practice adopted last year of allotting courts for one day to each club will not be followed this year, but applications may be made by players to the U.S.R.C. for courts for practice.

All applications must be made 48 hours before the courts are wanted.

BABE RUTH SIGNS AS COACH OF THE BROOKLYN TEAM

Babe Ruth will return to baseball as coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers. General Manager Larry S. MacPhail announced recently.

In a brief statement, which he declined to amplify, MacPhail said Ruth had agreed to terms after a conference attended by Ruth, MacPhail, Burleigh Grimes, manager of the Dodgers, and Leo Durocher, shortstop and captain of the club.

Officials of the Brooklyn club insisted that Ruth, who signed a contract covering the balance of the season, would serve as coach and that's all. Grimes, they said, would continue to hold his job as manager.

"It was Grimes as a matter of fact," said one official, "who asked that we get Ruth."

One report, which could not immediately be verified, said the Babe's contract called for a $15,000 salary.

Ruth's wife, Claire, said the Babe was delighted at returning to baseball. "After all, you can't give 23 years of your life to a game like baseball without missing it," she said.

The conference, short and to the point, followed and Ruth was back in baseball for the first time since 1935.

To Kent's first innings total of 337, A. Fagg, who hit up a double century in each innings against Essex in the match before, contributed 91. In the second knock, Kent scored 202.

Surrey replied with 333 and 210 for four wickets.—(Reuter).

Child Identified After Post-Mortem Examination

"UNNECESSARY CRUELTY FOR PARENTS," COMMENTS CORONER

"It must be a painful ordeal to the parents of the child to have to identify its body after the post-mortem examination. I think that's an unnecessary cruelty," commented Mr. Barnett (Coroner) at the Kowloon Court yesterday at an inquiry into the death of Choi Cheung, four-year-old male child who, on June 2, was admitted to the Kwong Wah Hospital suffering from scalds and who died on June 4. The jury comprised Messrs. Feodor Sciebnier (foreman), H. P. Rosario and Cheng Chi-nan. Six witnesses were heard.

It appears that the child was taken to the Kowloon Hospital on June 2 suffering from scalds that could have resulted from immersion in boiling water. The child was treated by Dr. Bee, who told the parents that it would have to remain in the hospital. The parents objected to this. They were told that they could take the child home only if the father, Choi Sun-fat, would leave a signed statement to the effect that he was assuming full responsibility for him. This statement was written out and signed by the father, after which he was permitted to take the child home. The signed statement was produced in Court.

Later on the same day the parents decided to again take the child to hospital. As they had refused to leave the child at the Kowloon Hospital, they thought it advisable not to take him there again. The child was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital. There the parents asked if they could stay with the child. As there was no private ward available, they were refused this. They took the child away. At 7.55 p.m. on the same day they brought the child back to the Kwong Wah Hospital, as it was crying all the time. Dr. Luk permitted the mother to stay with the child and he was left in the Hospital.

POLICE NOTIFIED

Dr. Ng Yuk-king, from the witness box, said that the child was admitted at 7.55 p.m. on June 2. His condition was fair. At 12.30 p.m. on June 4 his condition became critical and he died on the same day at 1.45 p.m. At 2.30 p.m. the body was removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital mortuary. At the time of the child's admission, he had told a sister to notify the police. This would have been done by telephone. Later he asked the clerk if his order had been complied with. The clerk said that the police had been notified.

Dr. Tai Hon-hung, Medical Officer in Charge at the Kowloon Mortuary, said that the body was sent to the Kowloon Public Mortuary at 11 a.m. on June 5. The post-mortem examination was conducted by him at 9.45 a.m. on June 6. In answer to questions by Inspector W. A. Russell, Dr. Tai admitted that in giving the time of the post-mortem he was relying on his note which had in part been compiled by his clerk. Later another witness, Ma Sai-lin, Interpreter at the Kowloon City Police Station, said that he had received a telephone call from the clerk at the mortuary at 10 a.m. on June 6, asking that the police and relatives of the child be present at the post-mortem.

Chan Lap, police constable, stated in evidence that on June 6 at 10.10 a.m. the inspector-on-duty at the Kowloon City Police Station had told him to go to 73 Cheung On Street to look for the deceased's parents. He had found the mother, Tong Sau-fong, whom he had taken to the Kowloon Public Mortuary. They had arrived there at 10.45 a.m. The post-mortem had already been finished and the mother was shown the body of the child, which she identified. The hearing was adjourned.

NAMOA ISLAND RECAPTURE

SWATOW CELEBRATES WITH BIG PARADE

Swatow, July 20.

By order of the military authorities Huang Lin-hung so-called chairman of the "Peace Maintenance Committee," and other traitors who were captured alive upon the recapture of the island, have been executed.

JAPANESE SUBMARINES RECALLED

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, July 20.

A press report states that all Japanese submarines in South China waters, including those near Hainan Island and the Paracel Islands, have been recalled to Japan to defend the Island Empire.

According to a Chinese Consul from Japan, that country at first planned to mobilize one-third of her strength for the "China Emergency" but she has sent over 1,000 men to China which is a little less than one-half of her total strength.

The diplomat estimated that Japan had about 3,000 first line planes six months ago but about 300 were shot down or damaged during the hostilities.
